The Vulcan and District Recreation Board is ready to begin another season of live music and entertainment with an exceptional line up.

BROCK ZEMAN • Saturday, November 19

Zeman, a 28-year-old singer/songwriter from Carelton Place, Ontario, has brought his signature folk/roots sound to many places across Canada. Over the past five years he has released seven albums and toured North America averaging 250 shows a year. Zeman has shared the stage with big names such as Corb Lund, Aaron Lines, Great Big Sea and Prairie Oyster. www.brockzeman.com

DAVE MCCANN AND THE FIREHEARTS • Saturday, January 28

Dave McCann and the Firehearts are on tour promoting their new recording Dixiebluebird. They describe the songs on the album as bruised country soul, heartfelt Americana, and southern tinged Rock and Roll. Playing in the Firehearts is long time guitarist Dave Bauer, multi-instrumentalist Pete Loughlin on bass, Tim Williams on the drums and Charlie Hase on the pedal steel guitar. www.davemccann.com

JENNY ALLEN • Saturday, February 11th

Jenny Allen has recently released her third album Blanket. She is a folk festival favorite with a sound that is country roots with a hint of pop. Though she's from Calgary, listen carefully and you'll hear a slightly southern-sounding accent in her singing voice. She has opened for artists such as Taj Mahal and Shawn Colvin. www.jennyallen.ca

PETUNIA • Saturday, March 24th

Petunia plays a wide variety of musical styles that meld into 'their own thing', although they draw heavy influence from the rockabilly and western swing end of the spectrum. Last year, Petunia performed an original song "The Cowboy Waltz" on the television show "Wild Roses". Petunia plays with the Vancouver band The Vipers. www.petuniamusic.com
